(Verse I)

I don't even know what it was
Just the space you filled
The ghost of a best friend
In a summer that got killed
My body knew the truth
Before I heard the sound
My hair falling like autumn leaves
My stomach on the ground
September was a knot of wire
Tightening in my chest
While you were playing Organized Chaos
Put to the final test

(Chorus)

It's a glitch in reality
A shock to the soul
Grieving a phantom
Who played a part in a role
You called it Organized
But it was just a mess
A coward's little circus
In a fancy dress
I'm not crying for you
I'm not losing my mind
I've buried the ghost
Of the one I left behind

(Verse II)

We had a deal of benefits
A simple, open door
But you couldn't find the honesty
To say I wasn't the one
You were looking for
You said you were rearranging
Just a change of floor
But you were scrubbing every corner
So I wouldn't exist anymore
Sweeping out the shadows

So she could take the place of me
Bleaching every surface
To erase our history
You looked me in the eye
And said You're not like that
But I still found her golden strands

(Verse III)

You painted a forever
With colors made of air
Building up a future
That was never really there
Then you switched the script
Said we were never a thing
Just to dull the venom
And the sharpness of the sting
You prided yourself on the wreckage you made
But I'm the one standing
While your colors all fade

(Bridge)

The chaos wasn't organized
It was just a hollow sound
I've picked up all my pieces
From your messy ground
The frequency is clear now
You can search the static
You can look for me in lines
But the girl you broke is over
And I'm nowhere you can find

(Outro)

You called it Organized
