Marionette Noir Unleashes Cinematic Slow-Burn Single, ‘The Beautiful Fool’

MINNEAPOLIS, MN - Songwriter and producer Marionette Noir has officially released her highly anticipated track, “The Beautiful Fool,” available now across all major streaming and download platforms.

"The Beautiful Fool" is a theatrical Melodic Noir slow-burn that serves as the forensic autopsy of an infatuation. The track captures the disorienting pull of being utterly smitten; the tense, breathless moment of seeing the warning lights and "exit" signs humming right in front of you, and willfully choosing to ignore them right before the mask slips.

"There is a dangerous, intoxicating magic in the air right before an illusion shatters. You see the warning lights, you feel the hum of the exit signs, but you let yourself be drawn into the dark anyway," shares Marionette Noir. "Not because you are blind, but because you are momentarily captivated by the fall before taking back the helm."

Opening with a sparse, mysterious vocal hook, the track wraps the listener in a heavy, tactile atmosphere driven by a continuously sweeping, hypnotic piano. It maintains this sweeping, moody intensity throughout, capturing the cinematic sound of willfully ignoring the signs, taking absolute command, and owning every heartbeat and scar along the way.

“The Beautiful Fool” is available to stream and download worldwide today.
